Additional Contributions to longer term success of committee:
The committee created a template for annual reports (used in this report) and developed language for specific duties for both the chair of the research committee as well as the research host (see below). Finally, the committee created the structure of having a Research Host Elect to shadow the process hopefully improving efficiency.

- Research Chair: Responsible for (a) convening the committee at minimum once a semester during term; (b) ensure minutes and agendas; (c) coordinate with the Research Submission Manager and the Research Host for the Call for Submissions; (d) Populate the review panel for the research process; (e) Arbitrate the discrepancy in the review process in conjunction research host, (f) arrange honorarium payments to the review panel, (g) attend the NC -AAAE Region leadership meetings, (h) facilitate the research committees selection of committee leadership including chair, chair elect, research host, and research host elect, and (i) bring action items and committee recommendations to the regional annual business meeting.
Research Host(s): Responsible for (a) collaborating on the final call for research abstracts with the research committee chair, (b) acceptance of final abstracts for oral presentation in collaboration with research submission manager, research committee chair, and host site (i.e., includes consulting author presentation preference on submitted abstracts), (c) collecting revised abstracts from authors, (d) organizing accepted abstracts into sessions – including a distinguished research session (i.e., and other discipline-specific sessions, as outlined within the call for abstracts), (e) assembling (non-poster) research proceedings, (f) soliciting and preparing discussants and facilitators for each research presentation session, (g) in conjunction with conference hosts, ensuring adequate space and technology for presentations at the conference, and (h) recognizing distinguished research at the conference.

Committee Recommendations for Discussion:

- The committee recommends amending the form used in submissions for the conference to include additional information details to help the Research Manager in processing the conference. This includes Discipline area, Presentation Preference (poster/paper)

- The committee recommends the Executive Committee explore one platform or portal that coordinates all submissions for activity the regional conference including: (1) Research Papers, (2) Research Posters, (3) LCT/MENTOR Submissions; (4) Innovative Posters and (5) Roundtable Discussions. This could simply be a Google Form that has one URL for all regional conference submissions.

- The committee suggests that the 2023 research committee further investigate and operationalize the “panel process”. Specifically, exploring how the panel process differentiates from a typical review process and our utilization of this unique approach. All regional members are asked to email thoughts and feedback to the newly elected chair.

- The committee would task the Executive committee to revisit the review process criteria and value assigned to each criterion for redundancy and impact.

- The committee requests clarity and guidance from the Executive Committee for operationalizing the responsibilities and duties to the other co-conference entities.

Committee Action Items:

The 2022 NC-AAAE Research Committee is not bringing any action items to the assembly for consideration.

2023 Committee Structure/Leadership:

- Becky Haddad, Chair 2023 University of Nebraska-Lincoln
- Laura Hasselquist 2023 South Dakota State University
